

<1> Be Respectful

We have zero tolerance for bullying, racism, sexism, and other forms of hate. Any behavior that falls under this category will result in a disqualification and removal. This includes verbal or written comments, the sharing of sexual content, deliberate intimidation, doxxing, harassment of any sort, disruption to others, creation of hateful content, etc. Harassment rules also apply to sponsors, speakers, and any other helpers in the hackathon. If you witness any of these actions, please report it to a hackathon personnel (contact@treasurehacks.dev) or on discord.

<2> Be Inclusive

Every person, regardless of sex, race, or religion, has a right to hack in a safe and warm environment.

<3> No Profanity

If you have something inappropriate to say, keep it to yourself.

<4> No NSFW Content of Any Form

This includes profile pictures, profile names, messages, pictures, etc.

<5> No Touchy Subjects

These may be topics such as politics, religion, weapons, etc.

<6> Respect People's Personal Information

Do not send the personal information of someone else unless given permission by that person. This includes, age, picture, name, grade, gender, location, email, phone number, etc.

<7> No Advertise of Any Unapproved Content

This includes servers, products, services, etc.

<8> No Impersonation of Anyone That is Not Yourself

This includes organisers, speakers, mentors, etc.

<9> Follow All Devpost's Terms of Service

Their rules are as important as ours: <https://info.devpost.com/guidelines>